

MISSION

The Fire Mountain Arts Council (FMAC) mission is to enrich our community life through the arts. We take our goals very seriously:

- Present theater, movies, music, and other arts events
- Foster arts education for our youth
- Create an environment that nurtures local talent
- Feature our regional character
- Provide venues for the arts
- Stimulate economic growth

Currently, the arts council is making real progress meeting these working goals as members engage our communities. Pride in the Morton Roxy Theater, Barbara Clevenger Johnson Gallery, and the Tiller Arts Center keeps FMAC united and working. Volunteers spend a vast number of hours to meet the FMAC mission. As members, we have many opportunities to serve.

MEMBERS

You will be joining the Fire Mountain Arts Council, a true non-profit organization, coordinated by twelve to eighteen hardworking, volunteer board members answerable to FMAC members. No board member takes salary or payment. FMAC has no paid management. This dedication is fundamental to our success.

Members support FMAC by being part of an enthusiastic audience, by contributing operating funds for the buildings, and by providing new and exciting programming and ideas. As a member, you will help sustain the grand historic Roxy Theater, BCJ Gallery, and the Tiller Art Center next door. And you will instantly become part of history by joining the legacy of local people who have preserved this Roxy treasure and provided the community with the arts for years to come.

The Roxy Theater is a place where you can proudly bring family and friends. Your membership dues and your gifts will help assure that community life will be enriched for future generations.

As a member of the FMAC team, you can help by lending a hand with the many job required to offer live theater, the art gallery, children's art education, concerts movies, and other events. Please check any of the following ways you would like to help.

Please check as many as apply.
